Tahoe Chamber To Oppose Ending Of Lake Fish Study

TAHOE CITY—A report that the California Department of Fish and Game plans to terminate the study at the Lake Tahoe Fish Hatchery in June, is being opposed vigorously by the North Lake Tahoe Chamber of Commerce.

In a letter to Robert D. Montgomery, regional manager of the department, Jack Domergue, chamber president, said:

"This planned move comes to us as a complete surprise since we were under the impression that the work of your department at Tahoe would be of a permanent nature."

"You are aware of the fact that Lake Tahoe fishing is far from commensurate with the tremendous growth of the recreation at Lake Tahoe and we hope and presume that the Department of Fish and Game has a long-range plan for a permanent installation. We feel, for instance, that a fisheries station at your property in Tahoe City could be utilized to take advantage of the results of the Lake Tahoe fishery study, since a continuance without any interruption is definitely needed if the fishing potential of Lake Tahoe should be reached."

Domergue urged Montgomery to attend a meeting of the chamber to discuss the future of the fishery and the state's plans for Lake Tahoe.

In the letter Miss Reynolds recalled the fact that it was the daily task of the staff and pupils to wade the high and unplowed snow, while climbing the hill back of down town Truckee to open the school rooms. The building is presently a store room for the modern school system here.

Skating Rink Out For This Season

The Truckee-Donner Recreation and Park District announced this week that their proposed skating rink will not materialize this winter. The main problem was finding insurance coverage for such an undertaking.

Their local insurance agents said that only Lloyd's of London handle that type of insurance and that they are communicating with them at the present time to secure all the details.

By the time the insurance is available it will be too late to run the ice skating program.

All details will be taken care of so that the rink will be ready for use by next winter, Randy Bobby announced.

With Johnny Besio as chairman, a group of seniors has been meeting with the assistance of Neil Gates and Dwight Souers every day during lunch for the last two months to plan the gala affair.

Now their work is finished, and the "Winter Wonderland" promises to be one of the truly great social events of the year at TNT.

The fire at Ray-Mac Mill shortly before the New Year boosted Truckee's fire losses to a total of $110,935.64 for 1965, according to records kept by Roy Waters, secretary of the Truckee Volunteer Fire Department.

This was more than $100,000 over the previous year's loss, Waters reported.

The department during 1965 answered a total of 20 alarms, only one of which was a false alarm. There were calls to four dwellings, two business establishments, two saw mills, three vehicles, two forest fires, two machinery fires and mutual aid was given by the department to Donner Lake twice and to Floriston on two occasions.

Feasibility Of City At Tahoe Is Aired

AUBURN — A preliminary report on the feasibility of incorporating the Lake Tahoe area of Placer County indicates if the municipality were formed it would be one of the longer cities in California.

William Zion of Berkeley, who has been retained by the county to study forming the city, told county officials yesterday if snow removal costs can be allocated to the proposed city, the tax rate would be approximately 20 cents for each $100 of assessed valuation. Zion pointed out the city should include an area from the Nevada line to the El Dorado County line and could include the Alpine Meadows-Squaw Valley area. He said the new municipality would contain about 14 square miles and be 20 miles long.

He stated if some $80,000 of state snow removal funds could be turned over to the city, the area could be operated on a first year budget of $638,000 based on a 5,000 population. If the snow removal monies are not available the tax rate would be approximately 57 cents.

Zion said he will have the final feasibility report in about three weeks to present to the board.

Entire Staff From Hospital Ordered To Court On Friday

Because of a court order which requires that the entire medical staff of the Tahoe Forest Hospital be in the Nevada County Superior Court at 2 p. m. Friday, January 14, only one doctor, one to be employed by the staff for emergency service, will be in the area.

This is according to an announcement made this week by the seven doctors who have been ordered to appear in court to answer an order to show cause why they should not be held in contempt of court. It is charged that the staff removed Dr. E. O. Hendrickson from the emergency call schedule at the hospital, contrary to a restraining order by the court.

All the official staff as well as the doctors have been cited to appear. At the original hearing scheduled for last Friday, the attorney for the plaintiff asked and was granted a week's delay over protests by the defendants.

The doctors involved are Monica S. Briner, W. Douglas Brodie, Fenwick Cole, Ben R. King, Gardiner Pier, E. E. Wilkins and Ray H. Wiser. Others cited to appear include Delos Bristor, the hospital administrator, and Directors Gordon D. Moyer, Ted D. Barrett, Raymond Hintz, William Vail, Joseph Q. Joyn and former directors, Ivan Toft, I. J. Firpo and J. A. Sheritt.

Doctors of the staff advised that if any medical emergencies occur during their absence that the hospital be contacted directly and the outside employed physician will provide service.

Fire Phone Is Not For Information

Inquiries relative to the visit of representatives of the state employment department may be directed to the local county liaison officer in the County Government Building, but not to the fire department.

Apparently there has been some confusion regarding the bi-monthly meetings of the unemployment crew, due perhaps to the fact they have been meeting in the social room of the fire station in Truckee. Calls to the fire department are taken by clerks at the highway patrol office and are not emergency calls.

N. F. Dolley of the Truckee Fire Protection District said that unless the practice of calling the fire department is discontinued immediately, it will be necessary to ask the crew to find other quarters.

The number to call is 587-3347 but certainly not the fire department, Dolley declared.

Work Is Halted On Project At Donner

Construction has been suspended on a state highway project where old US 40 crosses Gregory Creek at the west end of Donner Lake and a temporary two-lane detour on the south side of the roadway has been left in place there.

Motorists using the old Donner Summit route in Nevada County are urged to watch for warning signs, flashing lights and barricades which delineate the short detour. Contractor Harold Skeans of Sacramento has been installing a new culvert beneath the highway. Cost of the project is $41,400.

The work, now about half done, will be resumed with the advent of warmer, drier weather.

Plucky Girl Launches A Crusade on 'Sourpussedness' in Teachers

The trouble with the grammar school teachers of America is that they all get out of the wrong side of bed in the morning when the alarm clock goes off.

Then, seemingly, all of them breakfast on prune juice or gnaw on a lemon, or both. After that, they vent their ill-humor on the kids at school.

This view, unquestionably in error, is the conviction nonetheless of 11-year-old Janice Lilly, of Choctaw, Okla., who determined to abolish outbreaks of "sourpussedness" among the elementary school teachers in her town of 1,700 inhabitants, a few miles east of Oklahoma City.

One might suppose, after talking to Janice's doctors, that this young reformer had more than enough to do just taking care of herself, without worrying about the early-morning irascibility of the faculty of 27 young women at Choctaw school.

At the March of Dimes Birth Defects Center, University of Oklahoma Medical Center, Oklahoma City, the specialists tell you that Janice was born with multiple deformities. The child has foreshortened forearms, underdeveloped knees, clubhands, and outward-turning feet; and they add that after seven operations it's a miracle that Janice is able to attend school at all, and without crutches or leg braces. She also rides horseback and a bike, skips rope, outplays most of the kids at basketball, and for her age is a full year ahead at school.

How come this one-little-girl crusade to elevate the morning morale of the teachers at Choctaw Elementary?

"Well, sir, I woke up one beautiful morning," she says, "and like always at breakfast I groaned about having to go to school."

"Like always, my older brother bawls at me, 'Shut up.' (He doesn't know any other words.) But my older sister said, 'You don't make sense. Because most of the time after school, you're making up songs about how much you love school and your teacher, and about your arms not being long enough to hug her. So what're you hollerin' about?'"

"All of a sudden, then, I saw that my sister was right. Most of the time I like school fine. It's just that in the morning all the teachers act and talk like they would love to beat us over the head with a chair leg. Well, I reckoned I could do something about it."

What Janice did was to persuade two stouthearted classmates to join her at school next morning before the bell rang. With arms around each other's waist, they marched the length of a long corridor, howling out "Hello Dolly!" and "Everybody Loves Somebody."

A CAMPAIGNER for fewer frowns from teachers, Janice Lilly, 11, Choctaw, Okla., chalks urgent message on blackboard. Child was born with multiple birth defects.

Janice and her co-conspirators were reprimanded and sent home. But the next morning there was a repeat performance (with other choruses they had heard on television or radio), and a few of the teachers unwittingly joined in, together with some 100 small and electrified rebels.

"This was clearly a violation of the rule book," says Principal Lola Williams with mock severity, "which specifies 'decorous and seemingly conduct at all times enroute to class.' But what could you do? And I must admit that this unbecoming uproar has improved the morale of the teachers and the pupils and myself at the start of the day. It was all the inspiration of a little crippled child who never permits any of us even to suspect what it's like to be born seriously handicapped."

"Maybe it would be a sound idea if the other 100,000 elementary schools in the nation borrowed Janice's idea."

There may be a slight interruption in her nationwide project when Janice reenters the March of Dimes Birth Defects Center to undergo more surgery on her kneecaps. But she explains with some impatience that for her an eighth operation requires a lot less nerve than was needed the first time she dislocated the morning dloom at Choctaw Elementary.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

by Henry C. MacArthur

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — With actor Ronald Reagan's announcement that he is a candidate for the Republican nomination at the June primaries, comes the usual question of "what are his chances?"

Analytically, it can be said that his chances for the nomination are excellent, and at the present writing (situations can change any day) the odds are that it will be Reagan vs. Brown in the finals next November.

The handsome, capable and personable star of television and screen has this fact in his favor. Right now, before the campaign even starts, he probably is better known than any of the other candidates for the Republican nomination. And although there have been no declarations on the Democratic side, he probably has a wider following than Governor Brown.

Reagan's two avowed opponents, George Christopher, ex-mayor of San Francisco, and Laughlin Waters, of Los Angeles, are capable men in their fields, which hasn't included appearing before the public in various roles as actors.

Then too, Reagan in his various roles as an actor, generally has been identified as one of the "good guys." It will be difficult for the voting public to disassociate him from this category, even if the public wanted to, which it doesn't at this stage of the game.

Fundamentally, human nature demands a leader to whom those being led can look up to, admire and trust. Reagan has a head start in measuring up to this role as a leader, for the simple reason the public has been watching him in such roles for years.

In addition, Reagan apparently has selected a capable staff of advisers. Hollywood never has been backward in putting on the proper show for any type of promotion, and for the most part, has been able to accomplish the right show for the merchandise involved. The Reagan presentation was no exception, as it apparently was in the hands of real professionals who don't shirk the jobs they are required to do.

Along with the professional presentation, the candidate road straight into many of the vital issues affecting the people. His hope for a "creative society" is somewhat nebulous, but not a household failure to recognize a bottle of catsup and the implications the bottle holds for the future of California agriculture.

In fact, the catsup bottle could become a symbol for the Republicans, telling of the beginning of decay for growing of tomatoes in this state, and the eventual 'Packed in Mexico' label on not only tomato, but many other California agricultural products, along with increases in prices for the products to California families.

Such a symbol might not have as wide-spread usage as the hole in the shoe lappel decoration utilized

Ski Map Of Area Is Distributed By Sierra Pacific Co.

RENO—Distribution of an aerial panorama ski poster promoting the winter sport in the Reno-Tahoe-Donner ski complex by Sierra Pacific Power Company began this week.

The poster, first of its kind, shows every ski area served by the utility—all of them within about a one hour drive of Reno.

Reno Chamber of Commerce President Roy Powers, who received one of the first posters off the presses, said the poster is "a wonderful way to tell the Sierra Nevada ski story."

But Neil W. Plath, power company president, described it as "a modest contribution to stimulate winter business."

Plath expressed his personal thanks to William Harrah and Harrah's Club for providing the original art work. The aerial view of the Sierra Nevada was used earlier by Harrah to illustrate the Reno-Tahoe-Donner relationship and adopted by Sierra Pacific Power Company to place stress on skiing.

Plath said recent studies by Sierra Pacific indicate the utility serves more ski areas and ski lifts with electric power than probably any other utility in the nation. "Promoting skiing was a natural outgrowth of this determination," Plath told Powers.

County Receives Share of Licenses

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — Nevada County received $8,208 as its share of state motor vehicle license fees for the period from June 1 to November 30, State Controller Alan Cranston reported.

Cities in the county received $3,929.

Cranston said these apportionments were from a total of $14,641,194 distributed statewide. This is the first and smallest of three apportionments made during the year.

Apportionments in April and June will be larger because they will cover the periods when motor vehicle registration activities are at their highest.

The state collected fees are allocated on the basis of a population formula which, in this instance, allowed 53 cents per capita for cities and 39 cents per capita for counties.

Cranston's list of cities receiving return of fees this month included a newcomer, the city of South Lake Tahoe, which was incorporated following an election in November.

by the late Adlai Stevenson during his presidential candidacy, but at least, being red, it would attract more attention.

The Democrats will have to do more than merely deny what Reagan says during this campaign. To win, they will have to recapture the confidence of the people, seemingly lost in their seven-year, wild spending spree.

Patty Kelly Listed As Foremost Skier

by Suzanne Dijkstra
Sierra Junior College

One of the most outstanding skiers at Sierra College is freshman coed Patty Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Kelly of Weimar. Patty has earned the title of Sacramento Bee Ski Queen in 1964 and 1965 and wants to make the Olympic or FS team. Last year she was named to the National "B" team. A very promising skier, Patty took interest in the sport at the age of ten.

Patty captured the western states downhill championship in 1965 in Idaho. She also has won various far west races in the past few years and placed well in the junior nationals in California and Oregon, in 1964 and 1965. In the Roch Cup competition in Colorado in 1965 she placed eighth in the combined.

Besides being an avid skier, this life science major, a graduate of Tahoe-Truckee High School, stated, "I would like to transfer to the University of Utah or Nevada after graduation. Skiing is great, but an education is priceless." She also stated that her accomplishments in skiing are due to her coaches and the work she's put into it.

Patty is coached by Christian and Toni Marth at Sugar Bowl. She skis at Sugar Bowl all the time and says that it's really her "second home."

In high school, Patty was active in school affairs. She held offices on the Girl's League Executive Board and the Girl's Athletic Association. She was a member of the honor society, CSF, and was awarded three letters for skiing. Her hobbies include listening to music and reading. During the Thanksgiving holidays she placed first in the women's division in the turkey trophy giant slalom at Squaw Valley.

The reason for her success is her energetic enthusiasm and great skill. This coed will ski for Sierra this year, all in preparation for her inevitable goal, the Olympics. Needless to say, her story does not end here. Her skis are going to take her around the world.

Of the 305 teaching faculty at Chico State College, nearly half have obtained their doctorates or are formally pursuing a program leading to the degree.

SIERRA SKIING

By VI WHITE

All kinds of skiing conditions were experienced last week after the rain, wet snow, wind and sun hit the slopes but generally skiing was good Sunday.

The Birthday Slalom at Squaw Valley was run on a hard pack at the Red Dog lift area and after it was over, there wasn't a mark left to tell there had been a race.

It was the first race of the season for most and the ice caused unconditioned legs to give way under the strain of holding an edge on the steep slope.

Trophy winners were:

Class A Men—George Batchelder, Mammoth; Steve Thompson, Mammoth; Knute Olberg, Auburn.

Class B Men—Biff Gotcher, Reno, Wally Rothgeb, Heavenly Valley, Marty Sulzer, Zenileu.

Class C Men—Frank Carter, Auburn, Ron Reich, Piedmont, Vic Mathew, Reno.

Class B Women—Judy Leyton, Lake Tahoe, Joan Traher, Zenileu, Judy Allen, Squaw Valley.

Class C Women—Tie, Silvia Beasley, Oakland Ski Club and Edy Ancinas, Lake Tahoe Ski Club; Gloria Beall, Sugar Bowl.

There were no Class A Women in the event.

Conditions were excellent over at Heavenly Valley Sunday where plenty of snow covers the steep Gunbarrell Run down the face.

The new lift at the second stage helps to alleviate the congestion for those using the upper more gentle slopes, so lift lines aren't as long as they used to be.

FWSA Alpine junior skiers were at Mammoth for their first point races. Lance Poulsen, Lake Tahoe Ski Club and Penny McCoy Mammoth had top honors in the downhill event Sunday.

Other competitors from the Donner-Tahoe area were: Dick Nielsen, Miles Herkenham, Mike Gallagher, Patti Kelly, Vicki Jones, Cheryl Bechdolt, Kitsey Morris, Sandy Poulsen, Gretl Krammer, Phil Holleck, Gary Nagle, Rod Hill, Phil Nagle, Dennis Hamon, John Brown, Spencer York, Curt Wurst, B. Wallace, Eric Poulsen, Tony Madera, Jane Spiller, Caryn West, Elizabeth Younger, Shelly Herrero, Virginia Strobel, Holly Schooley, Tina West, Marianne Drammer, Pam Lerch and Gail Robinson.

In Nordics—Jumping competition went on at Granlibakken and the cross country event was on the Tahoe City Golf course.

Entering the events from our area were: Bill Hobbs, who was 2nd in the jumps from Truckee; Tom Ruhkala who won the cross country and was 3rd in the jumps; Cal Bechdolt, Steve Cross, Rich Baker, Jody Cross, Mark Briner, Mark Bechdolt, Steve Dewalt, Drew Brunell, Scott Domergue, Dave Donaldson, Scott Austin and Carl Ruhkala.

Members of the northern California and Nevada Winter Sports Writers' Association are meeting at Incline Village this weekend and have challenged the southern scribes to a dual slalom race on barrel staves.

The big event will be held at Powder Bowl, Saturday at 1 p. m. If you have ever seen a race on those unstable slats you know how funny it is, so bring out your cameras and take some fantastic shots.

Night skiing, special ski instruction classes, special races, torch light skiing and many other events are being planned by ski resorts all over the country to commemorate National Ski Week which starts January 21 and ends January 30.

Watch for local event in this column next week.

Diplomats To End Show This Sunday

CRYSTAL BAY—The rollicking Diplomats sextet closes a successful four-week engagement this weekend at North Lake Tahoe's Nevada Lodge, after showing thousands why they rank among the most versatile and amusing acts ever to pack the glamorous Topaz Room.

The Diplomats boast a virtually unlimited repertoire of uniquely style music favorites, running the gamut from show tunes, standards, specialty numbers and folks songs—much of it spiced by sparkling comedy that has brought laughter throughout the United States and Canada.

The raucous sextet's twenty-year show business history includes 19 motion pictures, plus an ABC network radio show aired over 800 stations. The group includes "Ace" Richman as baritone; Eddie Wallace, lead singer; Fred Daniel, top tenor; Jim Bateman, bass singer; Jim Roberson on drums; and Jerry Wallace strumming the lead guitar and banjo.

Sunday night will be the Diplomats' last appearance for this run in the Topaz Room of the Nevada Lodge, North Lake Tahoe's largest year 'round resort-hotel-casino.

New Highway Map To Be Distributed

The first copies of California's first official highway travel map are rolling off the presses and a million copies will be available for distribution to the public in mid-January.

A preview copy was presented to Governor Edmund G. Brown this week by John Erreca, director of the department of public works.

In addition to the standard features most highway maps have in common, the new map is augmented on the cover with 25 photographs and a text aimed at providing California drivers with timely information.

One such section is devoted to safe driving tips and another describes the function of the California drivers Highway Patrol and outlines the easiest way in which a driver can obtain emergency assistance.

A brief description of the state traffic laws is included.

Also explained are the freeway complex, and scenic highway systems. California's pay-as-you-go highway construction program is outlined in a brief statement that pertains to licenses and to the taxes highway user pay.

A message from Governor Edmund G. Brown, typical scenes of California highways and inset maps of the Los Angeles and San Francisco areas complete the cover side.

The map proper identifies freeways and other divided highways. California elements of the national system of interstate and defense highways that have not yet been constructed also are shown.

The locations of mountain passes and a symbol to indicate whether they are closed by winter snows and the whereabouts of ski areas will be of interest to winter drivers.

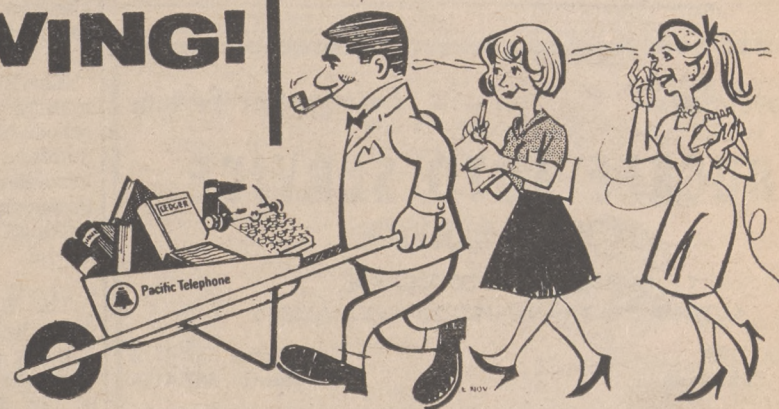

State parks are identified, along with information pertaining to the availability of camping sites; national parks and monuments are outlined by boundaries. Roadside safety rests and standard roadside rest areas are shown. All California missions and many of the colleges and universities are identified. Some of the state's more prominent unofficial points of interest will be made easier for drivers to find.

The map was originally scheduled for distribution in October but deadlines could not be met. Requests for several hundred thousand copies have been received by the California Division of Highways from schools, chambers of commerce, service clubs, civic groups and private individuals. First priority will be given to filling these requests.

Distribution to the public will be made by the department of public works, the division of highways, the department of agriculture, the department of parks and recreation, other state agencies and selected service and civic groups.

What's the Limit?

The most sensible way to handle a heavy burden is to carry it on your head. This conclusion emerged from a United Nations International Labor Organization (ILO) panel which drafted human-load recommendations based on scientific studies dating back to 1951. The panel noted that millions of laborers in all countries spend their working days carrying boxes, bales, sacks and other containers filled with an endless variety of items.

The studies showed that head-carrying is best, as it spreads the load evenly over the body and helps reduce postural effort. One panelist listed sprains, circulatory damage, hernia, skeletal deformities, back pains and feet and joint injuries among the hazards of improper carrying or overloading.

The experts recommended that a load for an adult man be limited to 88 pounds. For boys from 16 to 18 years old and for women, the recommended maximum is 33 to 44 pounds; and for girls from 16 to 18 years, 26½ to 33 pounds. Below that age, regular load-carrying should normally be prohibited, the panel said.

Load size as well as weight is a factor. One expert cited the fatigue experienced by French carriers who, under a 110-pound bale of bottle corks, "look like an 18-month-old baby playing with a large balloon."

Warning Lights On All School Busses

Watch for the flashing red lights when you approach a school bus that has stopped. Motorists traveling in either direction are required to stop when they see these flashing red signals, according to the California Highway Patrol.

CHP Commissioner Bradford M. Crittenden points out that the school bus driver must activate the flashing red lights when he stops to load and unload children who must cross a highway to and from the bus.

"Bus drivers are required by law to escort boys and girls across the street before boarding or after leaving their bus. Activation of the flashing red lights is not required when the bus stops for children who do not cross the roadway," the commissioner stated.

Motorists traveling along a divided highway need not stop for the flashing red lights if they are traveling in a direction opposite to that of the bus.

Records show that the giant Canada goose can attain an age of 80 years.

Judge Robert Gardner of the Orange County Superior Court will address the Reno Executives Club on the subject of "Crime in the United States" at a meeting January 27 in the Garden Room of the Riverside Hotel.

Death On Highways Shows Drop In Year

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — The death toll on California highways declined slightly in 1965, the first time since 1958 that it has not shown an increase over the previous year.

Governor Edmund G. Brown said the death toll in 1965 was 4710, or 33 less than 1964. He said this reduction occurred despite an increase of about 500,000 vehicles on the highways.

Brown said the New Year's holiday period death toll of 47 was 24 lower than last year and the Christmas weekend total of 54 deaths was seven less than a year ago.

Brown credited the better record in 1965 to efforts of motorists whose "individual determination to drive in a manner which reduces the chance for accidents is the most important factor in achieving an improved record." Brown said also there were more miles of freeways in use during 1965 and uniformed strength of the California highway patrol was higher than during 1964.

The governor said the year long reduction in deaths actually resulted from a drop in fatalities within incorporated cities.

HIGH SIERRA COLONY CLUB IS ANNOUNCED

The High Sierra Colony Club was announced today by G. David Baldwin, president of Leisure Lease Corporation, developers of this project. The High Sierra Colony located near Donner Lake was formerly known as Soma Sierra.

The Soma Sierra project proved the feasibility in this area of renting vacation homes for income, and this rental program has been incorporated into the High Sierra Colony Club project.

The High Sierra Colony plans include a program calling for the construction of 70 additional homes. For the first time, Baldwin announced, individuals may purchase homes in the Colony and vacation there and receive rental income as members of the club.

The club is an association of the private property owners in the Colony that provides an extensive rental service for the common interests of the owners.

CUSTOMERS ASKED TO ASSIST IN SERVICES

Delivery of fuel and collection of garbage are two difficult services in any weather, but during the winter when the snow is usually piled high, they become doubly difficult and for effective and speedy service, the cooperation of those being served is requested.

Customers are urged to have their garbage cans freed from snow and available to the collectors and fuel tanks should be uncovered and also made as accessible as possible for the delivery men.

This cooperation will provide for speedier and more efficient service and will be appreciated by the suppliers.

Building Inspector Has Variety Of Jobs

Another in a series of articles explaining the services which are available at the Nevada County Government Building.

The local building inspector performs one of the more familiar county services and this article will review his functions.

Nevada County presently uses the 1961 uniform building, electric and plumbing code. In the near future the county is expected to adopt the 1964 uniform codes.

H. J. Bergman, the Nevada County building inspector, has his office in the government building, and is available by appointment. Because he spends a large portion of his time in the field conducting inspections, appointments can be made through his secretary, Winifred Edmunds. Bergman is responsible area wise for all the county east of the highway 20 and Interstate 80 intersections. In many counties a different man inspects electrical, plumbing and building. However, in Nevada County one inspector conducts all three categories of inspections. This requires a more capable and knowledgeable inspector, but saves the county money in man-power and is of considerable convenience to builders requiring minimum calls to the building department.

The building inspector generally requires inspections on each building as follows:

- a. Foundation forms before pouring
- b. Frame and electrical
- c. Rough plumbing, including water test
- d. Final inspection

Bergman checks all building plans, prior to issuing a permit, for compliance to the building code. Fees for permits are based on the estimated costs of construction as prescribed in the uniform code.

Bergman is also responsible to enforce subdivision standards or restrictions required in the various subdivisions.

Another function Bergman performs is the control and issuance of billboard and sign permits, but only from the structural point of view. Prior to applying for a building permit for a billboard, a use permit is generally required by the county planning commission. Bergman, in his efforts to assist the do-it-yourself builders, is available for interviews and questioning on preliminary plans.

In an effort to provide the best possible service, and because this area has a large portion of buildings constructed by weekend visitors, Mr. Bergman is happy to accommodate homeowners on week ends by appointment.

Bergman is also available to answer questions in regards to building standards. Because this area requires a 150-lb. snow load, Bergman suggests somewhat stronger framing. Questions regarding any of the above can be directed to him at 587-3847, the building inspectors office.

25 YEARS AGO

Taken from the files of the Sierra Sun 25 Years ago.

Deputy Sheriff N. F. Dolley was summoned to go to Reno and return a prisoner to the county jail at Nevada City after the car taking Sheriff Carl Tobiasen and Constable James Wilson of Nevada City to Reno was wrecked near the state line.

The Nevada County Supervisors adopted a resolution calling upon the department of motor vehicles to assign more patrolmen to the county, charging that the five employed have only four cars to police the highways. The board members will receive a $50 a month raise giving them $150 instead of $100 a month.

Mrs. Laura Smith was installed as noble grand of Naomi Rebekah Lodge. Veronica Foster was installed as vice grand; Lucille Bick, secretary; Georgia Follett, treasurer and Winifred Kamp, warden.

Members of the Tahoe Ski Club competing in the California-Nevada Interscholastic meet at Mt. Rose Sunday included Helen Worden, Richard Carnell, Pete Vanni and Blake Goss. Carl and Bill Becholdt will represent the Tahoe Club at the Jeffers Cup Races in Sun Valley January 19.

Dr. C. C. Cozzallo announced that he is now associated with his brother, Dr. A. A. Cozzallo in Reno.

District Forest Ranger H. I. Snider reported 44 inches of snow fell here during December.

Dianne Silverii Will Wed Dale Houston

News of the betrothal of Dianne E. Silverii and Dale A. Houston and the tentative plans for their early September wedding was revealed to members of the immediate families at a recent dinner given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Houston of Concord, California.

Dianne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carmen Silverii of Truckee and a 1964 graduate of the Tahoe Truckee High School where she was a song leader and interested in a number of other activities.

The bride-to-be continued her education at Sierra College where she met her fiancé. Presently she is the grand representative to Oregon of the International Order of Rainbow for Girls and is a past worthy advisor of the lodge.

The future benedict, son of the Allan Houstons, graduated from Clayton Valley High School, majored in forestry at Sierra College and will attend Humboldt State in the fall.

Deer Removed From Freeway By Crews

SACRAMENTO — Somewhere today in the upper Bear River Canyon seven deer are wandering free after having been trapped for nearly a week by high banks of snow in the divider on busy Interstate 80 freeway a few miles above Baxteer.

But it wasn't really so bad, for the foliage on the young cedars is pleasantly full and tender for the munching.

The small band — four does, two fawns, and one forked buck—were first noticed December 31 by California Division of Highways maintenance men in the wide median above the Whitmore Maintenance Station. Whitmore is about 15 miles northeast of Colfax.

Although the deer seemed content with their surroundings, Highway Foreman Don Kipp called Fish and Game Warden Wayne Caldwell, who, in turn, notified regional game management officials in Sacramento of the situation.

It was the first thought of the maintenance men to haul some hay to the animals but the fish and game expert said to do so would probably kill them. It seems that after a steady diet of natural foods such as cedar greens, a deer's system cannot readily handle a meal of hay.

The game experts recommended instead that the deer be herded back into the bush. So efforts were made by highway snow removal crews to free the deer but with the combined activity of snow plows and high speed traffic the animals would not leave — preferring the safety of the divider strip.

Possibly they may also have known that pedestrians are prohibited from crossing or walking along a freeway.

So all traffic was brought to a stop on the westbound lanes of this famous transcontinental freeway while the seven lost ones were herded cowboy-style across the highway.

A few of the stopped motorists expressed impatience at the delay, but when informed of the deer and their isolation from their usual feeding grounds of Placer and Nevada counties they were content to wait until the little tribe had made it safely across the traffic lanes and into the surrounding hills.

COLLEGES TO GET FEDERAL ASSISTANCE

Five colleges serving areas of the second congressional district will receive office of education grants to continue work-study programs under the economic opportunity act.

Congressman Harold T. (Bizz) Johnson, representing the 19 county district, said that the colleges will receive more than $200,000 to assist 786 students work during winter and spring terms.

Sierra College will receive a grant of $4,671 for 30 students. Other colleges in the district include Shasta, College of Siskiyous, Chico State and Modesto JC. Chico State gets the largest sum of $162,503 for 602 students.

Entering College—

Miss Sue Knapp who has been employed at the Bank of America in Truckee is entering Sierra College for the present semester.

IDEAL WEATHER

Following the storms during the holidays, the weather in this area cleared and no precipitation was recorded during the week. This gives crews with snow removal equipment an opportunity to clear out the piles of snow in the business section in preparation for new storms. The temperature has been on the cool sides during the late evening and early morning hours, dropping to near zero, but days have been moderate with temperatures in the high 40's and low 50's.

In 1650 A. D., the world's population was about 545 million.

Pollution Problem May Go To State

SACRAMENTO — (CNS) — Another move to prevent pollution of Lake Tahoe was made this week by a group of legislators which asked Governor Edmund G. Brown to put the issue on special call next month.

Senator James Cobey, D-Merced, chairman of the senate water committee, said experts agree export of treated sewage from the Tahoe basin is essential if the lake is to be protected from pollution.

The legislative group said its proposal breaks the log jam that for several years has prevented effective solution to problems at the lake.

The objections of Alpine county to disposal of waste there are apparently met, the South Tahoe Utility district is given needed authority to assure sewerage the entire south Tahoe area, and the proposal will enable local agencies to solve the problem with state financial assistance.

Senator Cobey said the legislation would provide a grant of up to $1.8 million for extending sewage export facilities and grant the district legal authority to declare septic tanks a public nuisance.
